Jordan participated in the People to People Sports Ambassador program, which traveled to Vienna, Austria for the "Friendship Games". Jordan was a part of a 16-18 year old girl's soccer team representing the U.S., trained by 1996 U.S. Women's National Soccer gold-medal winning team member Tiffany Milbrett. The tournament, which had an Olympic-style opening ceremony, featured teams from all over the world.

Jordan's team, named "Liberty" played teams from Switzerland, Czech-Republic, Slovakia as well as other U.S. teams in tournament play.
